Rheinhessen

Keller’s grand cru Rieslings are larger-than-life wines of incredible density and power; they are thoroughbreds. Yet what no one does better than Keller is to shape this considerable intensity into a form that is elegant, finessed — beautiful. Yes, a Keller Grosses Gewächs is incredibly concentrated, lavish with detailed fruit, yet the minerality, the clarity, the form is what makes these wines unforgettable

*“If I had to choose one wine to show how great dry German Riesling can be I would choose a Keller Riesling. Those wines are the German Montrachets”
– Jancis Robinson*

✧ Nikolaihof

WACHAU

Nikolaihof Germanic monks obtained the estate during the collapse of Rome, and the first written evidence of winemaking comes from 470 A.D. It is one of the oldest wine estates in Austria, whose history goes back almost 2000 years to the Roman empire. In 1894 the Saahs family took over the estate and carried on the traditions the monks had established here. Integrated farming continued, and even as winemaking and grape growing took a larger role at Nikolaihof in the 1960s, chemicals were never used in farming. Essentially this estate has always been organic. Nikolaihof has been practicing Bio-dynamics since 1971, making them one of the longest Bio-dynamic practicing wineries in the world.

Established in 1858, for 160 years Tyrrell's has been one of Australia's pre-eminent family owned wine companies The Hunter Valley holds some of the oldest vineyards in the world. Within the boundaries of the region, it boasts eleven blocks of vineyard over 100 years old still on their own roots – some of the most unique pockets of vineyard land in Australia. The Tyrrell family is proud to own seven of those eleven blocks. Founding father Edward Tyrrell's motto 'nothing is great unless it is good', has been a guiding beacon for the family. This commitment to quality has been, and will continue to be, the basis of all that Tyrrell's does. Tyrrell's continues to drive family as a primary ethos of the company, with the simple philosophy of producing high quality wine that people love to drink.

HENSCHKE

150 YEARS OF FAMILY WINEMAKING

Established in 1868, Henschke is resolute in its desire for complete integration of vineyard and winery, through six generations of family grape growing and winemaking tradition in the Eden Valley and Barossa Valley.

In the early 1980s, fifth-generation winemaker Stephen Henschke and his viticulturist wife Prue became pioneers of viticulture in Lenswood, a sub-region of the cool-climate Adelaide Hills wine region.

The Henschke family continue to craft their white wines with a focus on purity, and their red wines with a strong sense of place, leading the way with biodynamic practices, complemented by traditional winemaking. They are mindful of their role as custodians of the land and their need to nurture it for future generations

The story of the legendary Max Schubert is one of pure determination. As Penfold's first chief winemaker, he was paramount in propelling the company forward, both at national and international levels.

After spending time abroad in Europe, he set his sights on making a wine 'capable of staying alive'. It was with this in mind he came to create his experimental 'Grange Hermitage Bin 1' in 1951.

Much to his dismay, the wine failed to excite the public and by 1957 he was forced to shut down his project.

Relentless, Schubert continued making the wine in secret and stored it away in the depths of the cellars from 1957 to 1959. In 1960 the project was reignited just in time for the harvest and Penfolds Grange took off. Here we pay homage to this history, with a chronological list of the most celebrated vintages produced.

Iconic vintages:

1951- first vintage, not released to the public

1952- first commercial release of Grange

1955- the most decorated Grange and the favourite of Max Schubert

1962- the second most successful Grange that is becoming increasingly rare.

1971- a great wine from a great South Australian vintage that won countless awards, including gold at the Gault-Millau Wine Olympiad in Paris in 1979, where it beat the best of the Rhone Valley

1975- last vintage of Max Schubert

1976- the first Australian wine to pass $20 at release and the first vintage for Don Ditter

1986- the defining vintage of the 1980's and Don Ditter's last Grange

1987- the first vintage for John Duval

1990- first vintage to be released as "Grange" instead of "Grange Hermitage" and was one of the best vintages seen, rivalling that of 1955, 1962 and 1971

2001- the 50th birthday of Grange and the year it was listed as a South Australian heritage icon

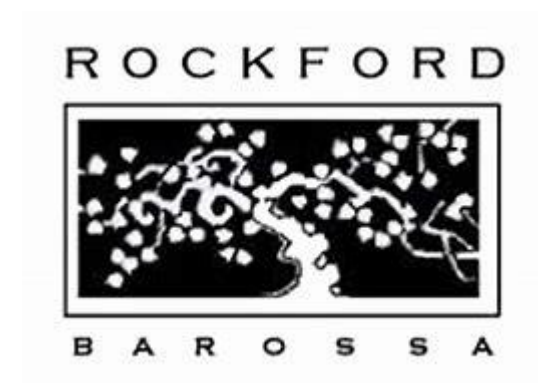

2002- the first vintage of Peter Gago as Chief Wine Maker and the last for John Duval

2008- the only Australian wine to receive 100 points from both Wine Spectator and Robert Parker in the same year

Clinic vintages:

Those iconic wines have been topped up, recorked, recapsuled and certified at Penfolds Red Wine Clinics.

Rockford is a small boutique wine producer based in South Australia’s Barossa Valley.
Founder and winemaker, Robert O’Callaghan belongs to a genre of visionary winemakers that include Max Schubert, Peter Lehmann, Jeffrey Grosset, Brian Croser and David Hohnen.
Rockford wines have had a profound influence on winemaking philosophy and wine style in the Barossa.

Providing the inspiration for a whole generation of winemakers ‘the Rockford school’ embraces the inherent qualities of old vine Shiraz: the physicality of winemaking where muscle and personal touch transform process into an art-form; the traditional tools of trade (basket press, open fermenter) and the complementary nuances of American and French oak maturation. Best known for the Rockford Basket Press Shiraz,
Rockford also produces a handful of top quality wines from old vine fruit sourced from selected growers across the Barossa Valley.

“A little story of the unheard cult wine of Australia”

Wendouree is considered by many wine lovers to be among the most beautiful and distinctive wines Australia has to offer

"Wendouree vineyards in Clare Valley, South Australia date back to 1893 and its limited production, high quality, unique wines have a reputation for lasting indefinitely. They have achieved a kind of local (Australian) cult status amongst wine drinkers in the know.

"For many lovers of big Australian red wines the discussion begins and ends with Wendouree. Truly exceptionally cellar-worthy, these full bodied and gripping red wines are the result of extremely low yields from the very old, unirrigated vines of Shiraz, Malbec, Mataro (Mourvèdre), and Cabernet Sauvignon, many of them growing on untrellised bush-vines.. A sense of a honest place, old fashioned, careful and artisan wine making where no short cuts are taken, ever."

They are not available retail, the mailing list is the only way to buy them on release and the mailing list remains one of the hardest to get on in Australia.

The 1855 Classification of Medoc
Bordeaux First Growths

The ranking system put in place by Napoleon III

Emperor Napoleon III requested a classification system for France’s best Bordeaux wines for the 1855 Exposition Universelle de Paris, on display to dignitaries and visitors from around the world. Wine industry brokers ranked the wines according to a château’s reputation and trading price, which was directly related to quality, at that time. The result was the Bordeaux Wine Official Classification of 1855.
